JOINT MOTION TO AMEND THE PLAINTIFFS' COMPLAINT TO ADD DEFENDANT KELLOGG COMPANY

The Plaintiffs and Defendant Peanut Corporation of America (PCA), pursuant to FRCP 15(a)(2) and 20(a), hereby submit this Joint Motion to Amend the Plaintiffs' Complaint to add Defendant Kellogg Company (Kellogg). The proposed Second Amended Complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit A, and is incorporated by reference.

On January 20, 2009, the Plaintiffs commenced this litigation against the above-named Defendant PCA, for injuries the Plaintiffs sustained arising out of a nationwide outbreak of Salmonella Typhimurium that has been linked to peanut produced at Defendant PCA's peanut processing plant in Blakely, Georgia. The outbreak has to-date caused culture-confirmed Salmonella infections to 550 people, and at least eight have died. The subsequent recall of food items that were manufactured with the Defendant PCA's peanut products and may therefore be contaminated with Salmonella involves hundreds of peanut butter and peanut butter-containing products.

The Plaintiffs' child consumed peanut butter-containing crackers manufactured by Kellogg in the days prior to the onset of his culture-confirmed Salmonella Typhimurium infection. This product was subsequently recalled after Food and Drug Administration (FDA) tests revealed that some of Kellogg's cracker products were contaminated with Salmonella.

The Plaintiffs filed the original Complaint against the Defendant PCA only. Prior to the filing of an Answer by Defendant PCA, on January 28, 2009, the Plaintiffs filed a First Amended Complaint that added a claim for punitive damages against the Defendant PCA.

Following the filing of the First Amended Complaint, the Plaintiffs learned that Defendant PCA has limited assets and that on February 3, 2009, a Complaint For Declaratory Judgment was filed against Defendant PCA by its insurer, Hartford Casualty Insurance Company, in the United States District Court for the Western District of Virginia. While the Complaint For Declaratory Judgment fails to state the specific issues for which judgment is sought, it is clear that Hartford is seeking to disclaim insurance coverage for the civil claims now filed, and likely in the future to be filed, against Defendant PCA.

Accordingly, the Plaintiffs seek leave to amend their First Amended Complaint to add Kellogg as an additional Defendant in this action. The Plaintiffs also seek leave to correct the state of incorporation for the original Defendant PCA from a Virginia corporation to a Georgia corporation.

The attorneys for Defendant PCA do not oppose this motion and consent to Plaintiffs' request to amend their Complaint.
